Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rakib (U.S. 6889385 B1) in view of Zhang (U.S. 6661785 B1).

3. Regarding claims 1 and 11, Rakib teaches (fig. 2 and col. 52, lines 49 – col. 53, lines 25) a communications system, comprising: a plurality of media terminal adapters (fig. 8, 372, 980, 986, 988, 990, 992, 994, 996, 998, 1000); a telephone line (694, 696, 698, 700, col. 19, lines 56-57); a telephone coupled to the telephone line; and a gateway (214 and fig which depicts the gateway alone) coupled to the telephone line and an IP network, and configured to exchange voice and data packets between a network and each of the media terminal adapters and the telephone over the telephone line, wherein the gateway receives a packet payload and determines if the packet is voice or data, if the packet is voice the gateway further determines if the voice is destined for the telephone or the network, if the voice packet is destined for the telephone, the gateway transmits it to the telephone, if the packet is destined for the media terminal adapter the gateway reformats the packet and transmits the packet to the media terminal adapter (col. 55, lines 4 – col. 56, lines 28).

Art Unit: 2665

4. Rakib does not teach the gateway depacketizes the voice packet and generates an analog voice signal.

5. Zhang teaches (figs. 1a, 1b and col. 13, lines 23-40) the gateway depacketizes the voice packet and generates an analog voice signal. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to adapt Zhang's gateway to Rakib's system to allow transmission of data between the Internet and the PSTN or any other telephone network thereby transmitting to analog telephones.

6. Regarding claims 2 and 12, Rakib teaches (fig. 2, 224) one of the media terminal adapters comprises a telephony device.

7. Regarding claims 3 and 13, Rakib teaches (fig. 2, 224) the telephony device is a telephone.

8. Regarding claims 4 and 14, Rakib teaches (fig. 2) the gateway is configured to exchange the voice and data packets between the network and the media terminal adapters by converting between a first format for the voice and data packets on the network and a second format for the voice and data packets on the telephone line, the first and second format being different.

9. Regarding claims 5, 15 and 17, Rakib teaches (fig. 2) one of the media terminal adapters comprises a telephone responsive to the voice packets having the second format.

Art Unit: 2665

10. Regarding claims 6 and 18-20, Zhang teaches (figs. 1a, 1b and col. 13, lines 23-40) a voice processing engine configured to convert between the voice packets having the second format and an analog voice signal in the voiceband frequency (Zhang teaches digital to analog conversion and vice versa).

11. Regarding claim 7, Rakib teaches (fig. 2) a telephone, and wherein one of the media terminal adapters comprises an adapter configured to exchange the voice packets on the telephone line having the second format with analog voice in a voiceband frequency. It is inherent in Rakib's system that a processing engine configured to convert between the voice packets having the second format and an analog voice signal in the voiceband frequency exists because one of the media terminal adapters is a telephone.

12. Regarding claim 8, Rakib teaches (fig. 8, 986) the gateway comprises a cable modem

13. Regarding claim 9, Rakib teaches (fig. 8) the gateway comprises a first port (952) coupled to the telephone line (PSTN) and a second port, and an additional media terminal adapter coupled to the second port.

14. Regarding claim 10, Rakib teaches (fig. 8, 728) a voice and data processor configured to exchange the voice and data between the network and the additional media terminal adapter.

Art Unit: 2665

15. Regarding claim 16, Rakib teaches (fig. 2) exchanging a second plurality of voice and data packets between the network and an additional media terminal adapter.

16. Regarding claim 17, Rakib teaches (fig. 2) a communication system comprising: means for receiving a packet payload from an IP network; means for determining if the voice is destined for the telephone or the network, if the voice packet is destined for the telephone coupled to a telephone line or a second network coupled to the telephone line (and col. 52, lines 49 – col. 53, lines 25); transmitting it to the telephone, if the packet is destined for the network the gateway means for reformatting the packet and transmits the packet to the network (col. 55, lines 4 – col. 56, lines 28).

17. Rakib does not teach a means for depacketizes the voice packet and means for generating an analog voice signal.

18. Zhang teaches (figs. 1a, 1b and col. 13, lines 23-40) a means for depacketizes the voice packet and means for generating an analog voice signal. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to adapt Zhang's gateway to Rakib's system to allow transmission of data between the Internet and the PSTN or any other telephone network thereby transmitting to analog telephones.

Conclusion

19. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

20. A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
